

TARTAR BEES HOST REDONDO SQUAD TODAY

Spook-ing of Football:

Torrance Favored Friday

Reeves Benched; Loss May Hurt Tartar Machine

Billy Reeves, the captain and signal caller of the Torrance Bee grid machine, will be benched today, a big setback to the locals as they host Redondo on the high school green at 2:45 p.m.

Although Billy will be back for action next week, his loss will be felt in today's game. He will be replaced by John Zamzra, who will have a big pair of shoes to fill in the QB slot.

Redondo's bees have failed to muster a win in League competition, while the locals blasted Paramount and Inglewood and lost by a single point to potent Centennial.

Tartars Tramp Pirates
Last week, the Tartarabees opened up in the second half to mail out a 24-0 victory over the Pirates. They have hopes of turning on a similar scoring push today.

Rounding out the backfield with Zamzra will be Jim Hawthorn, Mike Beriolet, and Bob Grajeda, with Jim Smith and Craig Edman swapping off to rest the starters.

The Seahawk Bees operates out of a Split-T formation and from past indications of the local battle ground, they had better stick to the ground for any gains.

Torrance backers scooped in a handful of Pirate pitches last week, and have an eye for interceptions throughout the season.

Reeves was grounded this week because of a late homework assignment. Although he made up the work, an instructor had issued a "no play" slip to the athletic department, and wouldn't call it back.

Hot Rodders Invited to Car Contest

Hot rodgers and custom car builders of high school age have been invited to enter their cars in the first All-County High School Autocraft Contest held in conjunction with the Motor Revue and Motorama at the Pan Pacific Aud., Nov. 5 through 14.

Warriors, Valley In Metro Clash

El Camino College Warriors, with an undefeated record, host the injury riddled Valley JC eleven this Friday at the home camp grounds for a Metropolitan League titanic.

If Valley mentor Al Hunt can get his top passer, Dick Windham, in shape, the game may turn out to be strictly an aerial battle with the Valley ace matching his skill against Camino's Joe Contestable and Stan Becker, the twins of the quarterback slot.

When Joe isn't plugging away at ends like Ken Cornell, Becker is taking the ball to big yardage gains on the ground.

Locals Trip Vikings
Though Long Beach nearly caught the Warriors napping last week, the locals were able to come through in the waning moments of play to pull a 13 to 7 victory out of the hat against Long Beach CC last Saturday night.

The win gave Camino a 2-0 record in league play, having compiled 26 points to opponents 7. The Warriors tied with Bakersfield and East L.A. for the lead.

This week's clash between Bakersfield and the Huskies, therefore, will prove to be the "crucial" of the week. The Renegades blasted Harbor College 42 to 12

Serra Gridders Bop Loyola; Meet Mt. Carmel Tomorrow

Serra's sparkling Cavalier ball club will take on the Mt. Carmel eleven at Inglewood High School tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in a Catholic League clash.

The locals put on a fourth quarter rally to overcome a highly touted Loyola crew last week on the winner's home field by a score of 19 to 13. It was Serra's first win over Loyola.

Late in the third period, trailing by 6 points, Skip Anderson intercepted a Loyola pass on the 35 and scooted back 30 yards. The Cavaliers opened up, and pushed it over early in the fourth quarter.

Tackle Mike Reagan and End Jerry Long opened a gaping hole and Quarterback Don Ziemke blasted through for the tally. Loyola returned by marching yards downfield for a score, giving the Cubs a 13-6 lead.

Frank McCarger then took the ball on third down for the Cavaliers, and romped 68 yards to decrease Loyola's scoring margin.

Then, with but several minutes remaining, Dewey Gansmer re-covered a Cub fumble, and Ziemke passed to Gary Norton on the fourth. Next down, Ziemke went over for the topper.

Pointed out as big stalwarts for the Serra team were Phil Shelton, Jim Cowden, Mike Morrell, Jerry Uribe, Gerry Stadler and Anderson.

Most of their forward line is covered a Cub fumble, and Ziemke passed to Gary Norton on the fourth. Next down, Ziemke went over for the topper.

Gridders Travel To Meet Redondo

Even though it's still a couple days until Halloween, a gang of Torrance Varsity ball handers will trudge over to Redondo tomorrow night with a bag of tricks which they hope won't be a treat for the hosts.

The Tartars and the Seahawks will mix in a Bay League contest, with the locals holding the edge because of past wins over two foes, Inglewood and Paramount.

Last week's big 21-point win over the Pirates of Paramount was more than just a point victory, it was like years to a keg of beer, it aged them. The Tartars "matured" more in that game than in all others put together, and it served to mold together a rather green football squad.

Start to Click
After they shook off their first period fumbles, the Torrance crew started to perform like a well-seasoned club. Don Fratatore, Jerry Burns, Al Rainwater and Skip Smith proved to the folks that they were all their proud parents had said they were.

And All-League contenders Carlos Skaggs, Denny Hester, Bob Boss, Sonny Steele, Tom Vanderpool and Ron Heffler turned in magnificent play both ways on offense and defense.

One of the high points of the game last week, and a big attribute to the coaching ability of Cliff Graybehl and Dick Leech, was the sportsmanship displayed most of the game by the locals. That, if nothing else, shows extreme confidence and maturity next to performance in winning ball games.

Redondo will operate out of the Split-T, hoping to punch through with QB Dick Keeler, a good runner and equally as strong a passer. Up front, the big man is a big man, 250 pound Bill Ewing at the right tackle job.

Scouts in recent RHHS says say the line has been the strong point of the "Hawk game, and probably will be huddling up tight for the Tartars' Skip Smith.

Those interested in promotion of Little League baseball are urged to attend a meeting to night at 8 o'clock at the Evelyn Carr School, Director Sam Porter and Mayor Nicholas O. Dale will be on hand to answer questions and give assistance.

Joe Setting, chairman of the organizing committee, said yesterday that participation of boys living north of 190th St. will depend upon the interest shown by them and their parents in the North Torrance leagues.

Information can be obtained from Setting at DAVIS 4-1062.

The Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Commission has received and referred for analysis and report to George Hjelte, general manager of the Recreation and Park Department, four bids for the construction of Harbor Park Municipal Swimming Pool near Harbor College.

The four bidders and the amount of their tenders were: Opper and Forsberg, $161,000; M. J. Brock and Son, Inc., $162,400; John L. Volk Company, $169,870; Carter Mack Builders, $178,525.

According to the Recreation and Park Department, the 60-foot-wide, 120-foot-long Harbor Park Pool will be constructed on city-owned property at the intersection of North Figueroa and "L" streets. Its depth will range from 3 1/2 feet at the ends to a maximum of 9 feet in the center, and its decks will be warmed by radiant heating, the Department said.

Going into the seventh all tied up, Robinson knocked a three baker, and Camou a double to bring in the leading run. Then Johnson blasted another triple, scoring Camou, and Jack French and Tex Roberts each got to first on a walk.

As French stole second, Johnson plowed home for the final run. The Merchants started things off in the first with four runs, compared to two tallies by Torrance. With three aboard, the foe A. Brinkholm clouted the lone home run of the day to give the hosts an early lead.

Things looked shaky for the Merchants early in the fifth, after pitcher A. Phillips put five off base, and French bopped a single during the course of the inning. Swain Johnson, Roberts and Jim Neady all tallied.

RUNNING RAINWATER . . . Torrance's Al Rainwater will be hoping to cut through the air like this in tomorrow's game with the Redondo Seahawks at the Seabawk Bowl, starting at 8 p.m. The Tartars are favored to nip Redondo; the locals have lost one league game and won two, while Redondo has dropped both Conference tilts.

A mild melee broke loose in the seventh, when a Merchant runner appeared to leave the beaten trail on his way to second to clean out short-stop Clair Johnson. Things got a little bit fiercer between the clubs, only to be climaxed by another battle.

Batter J. Simms apparently kicked dirt at first sacker Swain Johnson and Johnson in retaliation, threw dust in the batter's shoes. A nearby umpire witnessed Swain's motions, and a thumbed him out of the game.

But despite the flare-ups, the locals still came through in the seventh, shutting out three swatters and forcing the other at second.

Carol, Ed Williams Top All In Wednesday Night League

The bowling Williams family was singled out for honors this week by virtue of its recent top scores in league bowling at the Torrance Bowl, Ed churned a 188 individual high game, and Carol a 187 individual women's high.

Ed captured high series honors with a 526, while Carol won the women's series, 459.

Both are with the Webster's Bowling Shirt Team 5 in the Wednesday Mixed Fivesome circuit.

Bluebirds Clout Merchants 13-9 In Wild Fracas

Runs by Hank Camou, Claire Johnson and J. Robinson in the seventh inning was all that it took for the Torrance Bluebirds to squeeze past the South Gate Merchants 13 to 9 in a wild fray at South Gate, Sunday afternoon.

Going into the seventh all tied up, Robinson knocked a three baker, and Camou a double to bring in the leading run. Then Johnson blasted another triple, scoring Camou, and Jack French and Tex Roberts each got to first on a walk.

ROD & GUN
Chatter
By Donna Barkdull

Seems the majority of local sports enthusiasts have put down their rods in favor of their shootin' irons, not to mention the nimrods who never venture on the briny deep or along mountain streams—this is their time of year.

Deer hunting is slow in most areas except Tule Lake and Los Lake. Still waiting for show-ers in the north to send rights more in our direction.

The last California deer of the season taken by a local hunter was checked into town last Monday morning by Orville Spurgeon. Really a nice one, considering most hunters call our local deer "jack rabbits." Actually California respects a good number of big bucks this season. Just enough to prove that they can be had!

Utah had its opening for deer hunters last Saturday with several from inside Torrance boundaries making the trip. As of Monday morning, four Utah deer had been brought into the local locker plant. Lawrence Jarden, who stalked his buck near Beaver, Utah, brought back a beauty, a three-pointer dressing out at 175 lbs. He said he downed another, almost as large, but gave it away. Beaver advertises "the largest deer in the world." Don't know about the world, but Lawrence's has a rack is the largest ever brought into the locker plant.

Joe Arnold and H. L. Allison checked in with two bucks taken from around St. George, Utah. They wouldn't tell me which one got the three-pointer or the forked horn. Just said they both got half of each. Must have seen one of those deals where, "Joe, you get the front end and I'll take the rear. Ready? O.K. fire!" Everyone has his own method, ya know.

Mr. Newbig, of 1307 Cota, was among the fortunates down-rod a buck during the week-end. Also Lloyd Fullerton, only he hit his with a car—doesn't count!

Paul Smith, Walt Gillard, Gene Meacher, Dick Felker, Ken and Glenn Price and Lloyd Fullerton shot up Little Lake Saturday morning, all getting limits of ducks. A mixture of redheads, green wing teals, widgones, pintails, cinnamon teals, mallards, and ruddys.

Salmon fishing at Colusa going at a pretty fair clip, according to Brad Lindsey, Johnny Rowe and Ernie Maloy on their return after three days angling. Ernie bagged one 14 pounder, Johnny one topping 23 lbs., and a 5-pounder he threw back, and Brad horsed in two beauties, 23 lbs. and 26 lbs. All were kings. Will have more on salmon next week after the return of several more local voy-agers from said parts.

Really making like Robin Hood with the bow and arrow, or trying to, is Ray Hawkes, who o with his better half tried rabbit hunting around Palmdale last week. Took his gun, too, but it didn't make much difference. Said he ended up with one cotton tail and one jack on the second day of shooting. Lots of bunnies up there, but they really know how to scamper. He said he was a bundle of nerves by the time he stopped hunting because every few steps he would flush a quail. Might keep the spot in mind for the opening quail shoot Nov. 20.

Bob Ashley reported back that fishing for trout off the bank at Kernville couldn't be beat. All rainbows, the smallest measuring 14 inches. Some even hit the 22 and 23 inch mark. Hm! Know of a few heading that way.

PROUD HUNTER . . . Lawrence Jarden bagged this beauty near Beaver, Utah, last week-end, and it weighed in at 175 pounds, field dressed. It was the largest hunk of venison ever brought into the local freeze locker for storage.
